live stream and beyond

Freecaster offers web streaming services for both live and on-demand high quality content.

Freecaster is active in online video for more than ten years. Thanks to continuous innovation in our services and business model, we have been evolving in several phases up to what are today: a multidisciplinary team offering services across the entire video value chain, from production to online distribution (live and VOD) via our proprietary platform.

We have been active with customers like the UCI, streaming MTB and BMX world cups and championships for quite some time or as well MXGP, to whom we offer the pay-per-view streaming platform for the 20 races worldwide. We serve as well prestigious fashion houses, music festivals or international organisations.

Freecaster is based in Namur, Belgium, with offices in Paris, Luxembourg and Beijing
